real estate, startups, and business formations. Notably, she has specialized in advising women entrepreneurs and content creators, including influencers. In 2021, she assumed leadership of the SME team in Lower Austria and was appointed as a tax advisor the following year. Her dedication and expertise have significantly contributed to ARTUS's success and growth.

Paula's journey with ARTUS began in 2018 at the Baden office, where she started as a trainee. Since then, she has played a key role in shaping the firm, demonstrating an exceptional level of expertise and dedication to her clients. Her focus spans across SME consulting, real estate taxation, startup advisory, and business formations, with a unique specialization in supporting female entrepreneurs, content creators, and influencers.

Her leadership potential became evident early on, leading to her appointment as the head of the SME team in Lower Austria in 2021. The following year, she earned her certification as a tax advisor, further solidifying her position as an industry expert.
